HOUSE AT CAPITAL.

Wine and Cards for Legislators.

Stories Concerning Which an Explanation is Wanted from McCurdy.

Steps Taken to Force the Restoration of Funds Given to Politics.

J. R. Hegeman Comes Home Ready to Testify for Metropolitan.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Among the things upon which President McCurdy of the Mutual Life will be interrogated when he resumes the witness stand before the Legislative Committee, will be the story which reached the ears of Chief Investigator Hughes, today, to the effect that the Mutual maintains a house at Albany, where it offers sumptuous entertainment to various legislators whose friendship it is desirable to retain.

It was also asserted that it might be found that certain legislators who would scorn to sell a vote were not averse to winning money at cards, and the accounts would disclose handsome winnings by legislators with counterparts in the Mutual. Equitable and New York Life funds for fighting insidious legislation. Hughes may also try to throw light upon the wine cellar which it is alleged the Mutual maintained.

Preliminary steps were taken today in behalf of the policy holders of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York to force the executive officers and trustees of that company to make restitution of the $22,500 admittedly contributed to the Republican campaign funds.

Thomas J. O'Donnell, a leading lawyer of Denver, will, tomorrow, make formal application to the necessary suits in behalf of himself and his associates.

It was authoritatively said today that the examination of Richard McCurdy had only been begun. He is expected to resume the witness chair next Tuesday, after the adjournment made necessary because of the death of Speaker Nixon.

HEGEMAN'S INTEREST. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 11.—J. R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York, arrived from Japan last night by the steamer Empress of Japan with his wife. Hegeman stated he would go direct to New York to give evidence before the New York Legislative committee's investigation into the affairs of insurance companies if required. He said stories circulated that he had gone to Japan to escape giving evidence before the investigating committee were totally untrue. He had planned his trip to Japan a year ago.

The investigation, he said, was inevitable as it was unfortunate, for he felt it would do considerable harm to the insurance business. Regarding the alleged "blind loans" contributions to campaign funds, etc., he declined to speak, stating he had heard nothing concerning the investigation and was not in a position to discuss its exposure. He was eager to learn what had been done by the committee.

"You may say for me, however," he said, "I am going direct to New York, and far from trying to avoid giving evidence, I will be willing to appear before the committee when requested."

LOS ANGELES PEOPLE INJURED. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes of Los Angeles, patrons of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, were crossing Broadway at Thirteenth street through a mass of vehicles about 6 o'clock this evening, when a Broadway car shut from their view an automobile coming up behind the car. They walked directly into the path of the machine. The chauffeur applied the brake, not being able to avoid striking both. Mr. Hughes made an effort to save his wife but failed. Both were thrown to the ground, but did not sustain serious injury.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Lydia Cox of Cleveland, left far behind by companion tourists climbing Pike's Peak yesterday, fell exhausted and was found by searchers lying unconscious in the snow, almost frozen. She was taken to the Summit House, where she was revived, and spent the night. One foot was frost-bitten.

GREEKS FIRE ON THE ESPEE.

CONSTRUCTION GANG ATTACKS A TRAIN IN OREGON.

Because a Foreman Refuses to Re-instate a Discharged Man His Wife is Killed and One of the Shooters Injured—Flight With a Train Crew. Sheriff's posse Takes a Hand.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) ROSEBURG (Or.) Oct. 11.—Following the dismissal of a Greek interpreter employed in connection with a Greek construction gang on the Southern Pacific Railroad, trouble broke out yesterday among the Greeks, who demanded the reinstatement of the discharged man. Foreman John E. Peterstein refused to comply with the demand, and an incident riot broke out. The trouble among the Greeks continued to spread, the laborers becoming more and more demonstrative and impatient on the demands, displaying firearms, and last night they opened fire upon the neighborhood overland. The mob then turned upon Foreman Peterstein, and the firing was general. Peterstein retreated into his private car, only to stumble upon the prostrate form of Mrs. Peterstein, who had been killed by a bullet, whether intentionally or not has yet to be determined, but the general belief is that a stray bullet crashed through the car, striking and killing her. The crew of the southbound freight train appeared on the scene opportunely, and after some firing, during which one of the Greeks was seriously injured, a measure of order was restored and Sheriff McCallen at this place was communicated with.

A posse of fifty men, under Deputy Sheriff A. Bogard, was dispatched to the scene in a special train. Arriving on the scene of the shooting, the Greeks were lined up and searched, and between thirty and forty revolvers of various descriptions and a large quantity of ammunition being confiscated. The rioters were then put on cars, and word was sent to Sheriff McCallen by his deputies that, owing to the character of the prisoners, it would be impossible for the peace officers to control them, and suggesting that the local militia be pressed into service to act as guards.

Sheriff McCallen communicated with Judge Thompson, and an order placing the militia in charge of the rioters was issued. Upon the arrival of the train here, the sheriff's posse was relieved of its charge, and the Greeks were taken from the cars and herded in a vacant warehouse, where they are now closely guarded.

A coroner's inquest will be held over the remains of Mrs. Peterstein. The officials are unable to ascertain who fired the shot that killed the woman, and the Greeks maintain an impenetrable silence on the subject. The feeling here is such that the placing of the militia in charge of the rioters is believed to be largely a matter of precaution against violent acts on the part of the citizens.

DEFYING THE GOVERNMENT.

Another Paper Trust to be Formed if the Present Combination is Beaten.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President J. A. Kimberly of the General Paper Company, who was in Milwaukee today, says that if the government wins the suit against the company, another will be formed.

"I believe we shall win the suit," said Kimberly, "but if we should not win, I believe another company would be formed with a general ownership board, which would answer the same purpose. The plan would be probably to recapitalize the company so it would purchase the mills outright."

BANKERS' OPINIONS.

A Clearinghouse of Ideas Opens.

More Than Two Thousand Members of Association in Attendance.

President Roosevelt's Name is Applauded as Signifying "Civic Honesty."

Frank A. Vanderlip Sounds a Warning—"Strain on the Currency."

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "A strain is on our currency system. With our usual good luck we may avoid disaster, but it is the sort of time, nevertheless, when we ought clearly to see that we have a system which might endanger our banking position and retard most seriously our commercial development."

"We know we are threatened by great social disorders; that the edict of a labor leader might change a cloudless outlook into an uncertain one. We know there is a disregard of law in labor unions and in corporation offices alike which is threatening to our welfare. We can, at the moment, clearly see that, however prosperous conditions may appear, this prosperity might receive a severe check should a speculative fever begin to rage."

"Should a stock-market speculation start from the present high level of prices, in the face of the extraordinary demand for capital and money which crops and business alike are making, the result might easily be a temporary disaster."—Warning by Frank A. Vanderlip at the American Bankers Association meeting.

Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury, was introduced for an address just as the convention regained its composure from "the peace incident." He discussed the questions of trade expansion and merchant marine at some length, giving statistics of the enormous production and commerce of the United States and concluding as follows:

"Our foreign commerce is four times as large as forty years ago, but we carry in our own ships only one-third as many gross tons as forty years ago. We have protected and encouraged every interest but our merchant marine and every protected interest has flourished. We have every facility for international commerce except international merchants, international bankers and an international merchant marine. Shall we not have these? I am not urging ship subsidies. I am speaking of results, not of methods. If we will but take advantage of our opportunities we will send these products of farm and factory, under every sky and into every port, and make our financial centers the clearing-houses of at least a fraction of the world's trade."

The report of the Standing Protective Committee disclosed the expenditure for the year ending September 1 of $25,871 to the Pinkerton Detective Agency and the arrest of sixty-two persons. The report asks the cooperation of the members in an endeavor to secure an amendment to the Penal Code of each State providing for the more severe punishment of the "Yegg" burglar, as the report states, "this class of criminal is the severest menace to the members of the association distant from the centers of population."

The committee recommends the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the compromising of a crime either by the committee or a member of the association.

The report of the Executive Committee was partly received by the convention, but its reading was suspended in order that Frank A. Vanderlip might address the convention.

STATE SENATOR E. J. EMMONS, whose trial on charge of bribery will probably come to an end tomorrow.

THE CONTINENTAL REAL PLAINTIFF.

BURDEN OF JOHNSON'S ARGUMENT FOR EMMONS.

Dist. Atty. Seymour Begins Concluding Address to Jury in Celebrated Bribery Trial at Sacramento, Which Should Not be State's Moral Clearinghouse.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11.—In the Emmons bribery trial before Judge Hart this morning Grove L. Johnson resumed his argument to the jury for the defense. The courtroom was crowded to its full capacity and several times the speaker was obliged to order silence from the gallery.

The attorney went rapidly over the whole case as presented by the testimony to illustrate his claim that neither Jordan, Bankers nor Lee had been corroborated. He implored the jury to discover if it could any testimony corroborative of either Bankers, the confessed perjurer and felon, or Jordan, the alleged go-between.

Johnson assailed the Continental Building and Loan Association as the real plaintiff in the case, the institution, he said, being corrupt and debauched and operated in the interests of schemers; that Corbin had overdrawn and defrauded the company. Johnson declared that there was ample cause for an investigation of the company and held that it feared investigation and entered into a scheme to forestall investigation and stand off exposure by turning upon the defendant with accusation that should serve to distract attention from its own corruption and cover its own villainies.

Johnson claimed that District Attorney Seymour if anxious to proceed against graft, should have taken steps to prevent the gambling that was carried on during the State fair or that secretly conducted in this city, instead of foisting a trial on his own county that would cost $10,000.

At 3:15, District Attorney Seymour began the concluding address to the jury. He opened with a tribute to the State and the manhood and womanhood that had built the commonwealth. But a shame had come upon it when a Senator was brought to the bar of justice for wantonly violating his sacred trust.

CONTRACT QUASHED.

Markel Will Not Feed Diggers.

Omaha Man Loses Fifty-Million-Dollar Plum on the Isthmus.

Stevens's Success at Job of Feeding Makes Unnecessary Expenditure.

Canal Commission and Consulting Engineers Start Home from Colon.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) PANAMA, Oct. 11.—[By Central American Cable.] The last act of the Panama Canal Commission before sailing for New York was the annulment of the contract awarded to J. E. Markel of Omaha for feeding and caring for the employees of the canal. The reason for this action is that Chief Engineer Stevens, through the department of materials and supplies under Messrs. Jackson and Smith, is handling the commissary successfully, rendering unnecessary the arrangement with Mr. Markel. Protests made by the employees against the arrangement, it is believed, also influenced the decision.

COMMISSION RETURNING. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) COLON, Oct. 11.—The steamer Havana sailed for New York at 5 o'clock this afternoon with the members of the canal commission, the board of consulting engineers and other members of the party which sailed for Colon from New York September 21. The engineers devoted yesterday to work about the canal.

ground at Colon, the chief question and other matters with Chief Engineer Stevens, and dredging and similar subjects with Division Engineer Maltby. The Royal Mail steamer Orizaba sailed today for Jamaica, taking 300 laborers to points in the West Indies. Within the past two weeks, about six hundred laborers who had been engaged for work on the canal left for their homes.

The contract with Mr. Markel was to run for five years, and it was estimated that it would involve $50,000,000. Hodgins & Dumas, one of the other firms bidding for the contract, protested against the award to Mr. Markel, alleging favoritism and charging that the latter was enabled through a leak in the office of Chairman Shouts to gain information about the other bidders, which aided him in bidding successfully. The protest was forwarded to President Roosevelt, who referred it to Chairman Shouts for report, and later decided that the contract would stand.

ABNER MCKINLEY'S WIDOW. Married Privately to Capt. John D. Allen of Tampa, Fla., Last Monday.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Annie E. McKinley, widow of the late Abner McKinley, was married here very privately, Monday last, to Capt. John D. Allen of Tampa, Fla. So quietly was the ceremony performed that tonight it is impossible to learn either where it took place or who the officiating minister was. Sunday, Mrs. McKinley and Miss Anna Beiden of New York registered at a hotel here, as did also Capt. Allen and Spencer S. Weeks of Brooklyn.

The marriage license was issued Monday, Mr. Weeks being the applicant. It authorized the marriage of John D. Allen, widow, fifty-five, of Tampa, Fla., and Annie E. McKinley, widow, forty-nine, of New York. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left the hotel, and are now, it is said, in Virginia, where Mr. and Mrs. Allen will spend their honeymoon.

GREENE COPPER ELECTION. BOSTON (Mass.) Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the annual meeting of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company, James Phillips, Jr., W. V. S. Thorne and Edward B. Tustin were superseded by Eugene N. Foss, H. G. Hurlbut and Thomas P. Wilson. Three other vacancies were filled by the election of Gov. U. S. Woodbury, William D. Baldwin and A. Bleeker Blank. The usual bi-monthly dividend was declared.

HEAD PACKER INDICTED. CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Edward Tilden, head of the National Packing Company, has been served with a subpoena to appear as a witness in the trial of packers indicted on charges of conspiracy to monopolize the meat business.

The third annual report of the Pacific Bible College, which is under the supervision of the Church of the Nazarene, was given by Miss Leora Maria.

Superintendent Brown of the Northwest District, including Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, told of progress at Boise, Idaho, Garfield, Wash., Spokane, North Yakima, Tipton, Wash., Seattle, Portland, Ashland, Or., and other points.

Superintendent E. A. Girvin of Berkeley reported the Northern California District, including the cities around the Bay of San Francisco. All are prospering, and Alameda is building a church.

G. Martin, superintendent of the Chicago Central District, told of the work the church is accomplishing there, in both its regular pastorates and its mission work. Last Sunday its first mission among the Swedish people of Chicago, was opened. The People's Mission Church of Colorado Springs petitioned to be reorganized in the Church of the Nazarene.

MORE METHODISTIC FORM.—There was a mild sensation when District Superintendent Brown offered a memorial from his district. The document asked that further powers be given the general superintendent, so that he might appoint pastors to churches, and asked that some plan might be devised so that ministers might be changed from church to church. In fact, it was a request to return to the old Methodist form of government. Heretofore, the Church of the Nazarene has been congregational in its government. The report of the committee on this document will doubtless bring about a warm debate on the assembly floor.

Last night Rev. W. C. Wilson of Long Beach preached, and tonight the sermon will be by Rev. S. S. Chafe of Cucamonga.

Side Talks By the Office Boy

Whiskers there's the head hat squeeze at the Spring-street school, and he's having an awfully hard time lately; he's been so busy with his hat, he's not had time to talk to his friends. A young customer of our came in with a friend who had just arrived from New York and asked if he had a Dertor hat like his friend was wearing; we happened to have the exact thing, made by the same factory, "Crest" & Knapp of South Norwalk, Connecticut. The customer was delighted, and after we'd confirmed the hat to fit his head perfectly he threw down four silver dollars in payment. "My friend told me that you had the same number," etc. We told him that we were satisfied with our margin of profit; that perhaps we sold more hats than the New York hatter did. Indeed, don't pay over $10 for a hat unless it's a Stetson, and if you buy a Stetson you'll find our assortment of Stetson Hats double that of any other hatter in town.

CUBANOLA CIGAR—5c.

The delightful aroma of a Cubanola smoke has a mighty good ten-cent reason behind it: The Cubanola has a genuine imported Havana filler and a selected grade Sumatra wrapper, just like a good, standard ten-cent cigar.

And further: Every leaf that goes into the filler is grown under one direct control, especially for Cubanola cigars, and put through the American Cigar Company's two-year processes of maturing and blending—the newly perfected processes that no other manufacturer has even attempted.

Cubanola cigars are delivered to the dealer in perfect condition, direct from the humidors—every box separately cased in a dust-tight, weather-proof, paraffine wrapper. The Triangle A on the Cubanola box stands for perfect figure. It is a mark—mark that means science, system and cleanliness in every process, and better cigars for less money.

DARING PLOT TO ROB SPORT.

WILLIAM E. ELLIS'S EXPERIENCE IN BERKELEY.

Australian is Taken from a Hotel in Oakland to a Cottage. Where His Skull is Crushed and Two Shots Fired at Him—Nearly Five Thousand Dollars Stolen.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BERKELEY, Oct. 1.—A daring plot to lure an Australian sportsman, William E. Ellis, to a quiet house in Berkeley, and there murder and rob him of $1000 in English currency which he had on his person, was carried out this afternoon by a man and woman whom the police believe to be desperate crooks. They had persuaded Ellis to come with them to America and race horses here.

Today they brought Ellis from a hotel in Oakland, to a cottage on Ellsworth street, a stone's throw from the University of California, where he sat down to lunch. Then, without warning, the woman fired a shot at him as he lay prostrate. The crooks rifled his pockets of an amount equal nearly to $5000 in American money, then, leaving their victim for dead, hurriedly left the house and made their escape. Ellis regained consciousness, and staggered to the California stables, two blocks away on Allston Way, and from there was carried to the Roosevelt Hospital, where the doctors found he had a fractured skull. He is in a precarious condition tonight.

Ellis's home is at No. 235 Crown street, Sydney, Australia, where his wife and three children reside. He is a prominent horseman there, and met his assailants during the last racing season. They represented themselves to be a Mr. and Mrs. W. Curtis, but assumed the name of Brush in this country. Curtis claimed to be a wealthy race horse man owning big stables here. He offered Ellis the position of manager of his stables, and induced him to sail with them on the steamer Sierra, which arrived in San Francisco one week ago.

Curtis and the woman came to Berkeley and rented a furnished cottage on Ellsworth street, from a local agent. Ellis took apartments at a hotel in Oakland. The couple had evidently made all preparations to carry out a British crime.

A bowie knife, silencer, pistol, butcher knife, bottle of poisonous acid and a pair of rubber gloves were found hidden under the bed covers adjoining the dining-room where the assault took place. The carpet nailed to the dining-room floor was ripped up, and a large piece of this old carpet was put down instead, evidently for the purpose of avoiding bloodstains on the carpet.

Ellis's skull was fractured by a blow from a hammer wielded by Curtis, who approached from behind, while the guest was seated at lunch table. Ellis held up his hand to ward off a second blow and received the weapon on the wrist which was badly bruised. The injured man says he saw the woman standing with a revolver and that she fired two shots at him from the cottage. Curtis tore the coat from Ellis, and found a roll of notes to the amount of $1000 in Ellis's hip pocket. The woman, who was dressed in a black dress, hurriedly fled from the scene.

That Curtis and the woman made a hasty escape is shown by the fact that they left a complete wardrobe of the most expensive clothing behind in the dining-room, two suit cases, handbag and two small trunks. In all this clothing and personal effects there was not a single photograph or mark that would lead to the real identification of the couple.

The police, however, have good descriptions of both parties. John Edwards, a high-school student, who is a tennis player, saw the couple in the street, as he heard the screams of a man in pain, about 3 o'clock. He saw a tall man in a light suit, with a small woman in a brown dress, running down Ellsworth street to catch a car. The description of the parties tallies with that of the clerk of the hotel, who met them when they visited Ellis's apartments yesterday. The neighbors who saw them going in and out the past week say the woman was slender, a blonde, and wore many diamonds and dressed elegantly. Ellis made the following statement:

"My home is Sydney, Australia. I am a horseman by profession, and became acquainted with Curtis and the woman who passed as his wife during the racing season in Sydney. He said he owned a string of the horses in America and offered me a position as manager, and his tales of wealth to be had in this country induced me to accompany him here.

"We took passage on the Sierra, and I learned on the boat that Curtis and the woman were traveling under the name of Brush. They told me they were known by the name of Brush in the United States. I came over to Oakland October 2, and engaged rooms at the Hotel Touraine, while Curtis rented a cottage in Berkeley. I visited them several times, and agreed to accompany them to New York. They were to have left on tonight's overland, but I had grown suspicious and did not intend to take the train.

"Yesterday, at 2 o'clock, Curtis and the woman came to the Touraine and invited me to come out to lunch with them in Berkeley today. At that time, Curtis said he was short of money and asked me for a loan. I gave him $50 in currency.

"This afternoon about 2 o'clock I arrived at the house on Ellsworth street, and was entertained in a cheerful manner. There was hardly anything on the table, but both Curtis and his wife seemed in good humor. I had just taken my seat at the table when I was struck a fearful blow on the head, and I turned around and saw Curtis standing with a hammer in one hand and a silencer in the other. The woman, who was pointing a revolver at me, fired two shots. As I fell to the floor I could feel Curtis searching my clothes. That's all I remember till I came to and made my way to a lively stable for help.

CANT FIND CUNIFFE.

GONE WITH EXPRESS MONEY.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—There were no further developments today in the mysterious disappearance of Edward G. Cuniffe, employed by the Adams Express Company, and the missing $100,000. Notwithstanding the large force of officers engaged on the big robbery, it was said that nothing of importance had been learned.

It is known that Cuniffe, the supposed man, stated that the money package containing $100,000 and that the package never reached the money forwarding office of the Adams Express Company, located at Union Station, this city. It is also known that there was about $1000 in the Wood street office of the company Monday, which could not be found.

According to General Agent C. H. Hiner of the Adams Express Company, Cuniffe was an exemplary employee. He had been employed by the company since March, 1904. He was attentive to his duties, and so far as known by his superiors, he had none of the vices which usually are uncovered after a mysterious disappearance involving the loss of other people's money.

COMPANY MAKES GOOD.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—The First National Bank of this city today received by telegraph from Pittsburgh the $100,000 which was to have been brought by express, but disappeared in Pittsburgh. The express company directed the payment to the bank immediately on finding that it had been actually in their possession at the time of its loss.

Peoria Educator Developed Sense of Humor When He Used Name of "F. Dupe & Co." on Piece of Worthless Paper—Twenty-four More Indictments Expected.

PEORIA (Ill.) Oct. 1.—N. C. Dougherty, 34, 1000 by use of the name of F. Dupe & Co. of Chicago, in three years. This was developed by the grand jury today when H. J. Merle, secretary of the company, testified that Dougherty had used the name of the company in forging checks and the school scrip had been extensive. The vagaries of his actions are almost incomprehensible. In one case he forged a check for $157. In another, a sense of humor developed when the name of "F. Dupe & Co." had been forged. The most fantastic names were used and there seems to have been no system whatever used in his work.

The members of the School Board are following the theory that Dougherty lost large sums of money in wildcat gold mining schemes, estimated at between $60,000 and $100,000. The grand jury reported to the State's Attorney that they would report at least 24 more cases against Dougherty. The latest estimate placed on his peculations in padded pay rolls places the amount at a quarter of a million dollars. So far as it has been figured from the canceled checks, it shows that for ten years past he averaged from $2500 to $4000 per month. As new school houses were built and new teachers added the proportion of added names was carried out. The checks for the fictitious names were cashed by Dougherty himself, who explained that he would hand the money to the teachers in person.

THIEF BUSY AMONG GIRLS.

BERKELEY STUDENTS VICTIMS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BERKELEY, Oct. 1.—Consternation reigns among the women students of the State University over the discovery that a thief is actively working among them. Numerous thefts have occurred since the beginning of the term, women students losing jewelry and money.

Today, Mrs. Selver reported that her locker had been broken open and $35 stolen from her.

The university authorities are taking determined steps to discover the thief.

PAT CROWE BOUND OVER.

KIDNAPER GETS A HEARING.

OMAHA, Oct. 1.—When the preliminary hearing of Pat Crowe, called before Judge J. B. Gurnea this afternoon, Crowe waived that formality and was bound over to the District Court in $5000 bail. Attorney English, who represented Crowe, asked that his client be given a trial at the earliest possible time.

It is believed that the prisoner will be able to secure a bond. It is stated at the County Attorney's office, however, that, in case of his securing bail on the shooting charge, he will be arrested on the highway robbery charge filed today in connection with the Cady kidnaping.

The original charge was today amended to cover the statute of limitations, by affidavits showing that Crowe has been a fugitive from justice since the filing of the original charge and the issuance of a warrant for his arrest.

CAUGHT IN THE NORTH.

Much-wanted Alleged Swindler Will Be Returned to Los Angeles for Trial.

R. E. Weaver's desire to get rich in a hurry stilled whatever scruples he may have had against the practice of separating other people from their money, and when the opportunity presented itself, Weaver did not hesitate to take $300 belonging to another man and hastily depart for another city. At least, that is what the police say. Weaver was arrested in San Francisco yesterday afternoon and he will be sent back to Los Angeles today.

One Garwood claims that he was foolish enough to answer one of Weaver's advertisements for a partner and when Weaver, who was a sewing machine agent, vividly described the enormous profits to be made in the insurance business, Garwood was tempted and paid over $300 in cash for a half interest in a business which existed only in Weaver's imagination. After Weaver took the money and disappeared a short time afterward, a week later a warrant for his arrest on a charge of grand larceny was issued out of Justice Austin's court. That was three weeks ago, and yesterday Weaver was jailed.

San Bernardino Deputy Sheriff Arrests Here Man Suspected of Riverside Murder.

Deputy Sheriff Delards of San Bernardino county arrested at No. 325 San Fernando street yesterday, Tranquillo Soto, who is suspected of being the murderer of A. R. Rockhill at Riverside, Jan. 2, 1935. Soto was arrested with his prisoner in the afternoon for San Bernardino, where an attempt will be made to identify the man as the one for whom a search has been conducted since the murder. Soto had been in Los Angeles about six months.

The murder of Rockhill was peculiarly sinister for he had been kidnapped with a strap that had been drawn tightly around his throat, and his head had been buried in the club, improvised from the handle of a cultivator.

Several persons fell under suspicion after the murder, among them being Poloni Ceobarmia, alias Reyes, alias Soto. He disappeared and the officers have sought him ever since. A reward of $200 is offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer.

State Mineralogist Denounces Santa Ana Tin Co.

Each Bitterly Scores Other; Is Law Violated?

Serious charges are made by Lewis B. Aubury, the State Mineralogist, against the Santa Ana Tin Mining Company of this city, which he faults for its alleged misrepresentation of law against misrepresenting mining properties for the purpose of selling stock, in a statement given to local papers by him. If substantiated, the accusations would be serious. They are denied absolutely and in every detail by officers of the company, who in turn make charges against Mr. Aubury of being influenced by ulterior motives and of grossly misrepresenting the situation. Under the present law, an officer of a company who misrepresents a property to sell stock is liable to a term in State's prison.

The Santa Ana Tin Company has properties in Trabuco Cañon in Orange county, and offices in the Laughlin building. The officers are Gail Bowden, president; George W. Hoover, vice president; J. A. This Mr. Aubury denounces as a rank fake, declaring that the valuable minerals do not exist in the ore to any appreciable extent. In proof of this he says he has submitted samples to geologists in Los Angeles, to the United States Geological Survey and others, and received returns adverse to the company's claims.

He had been drinking freely during the day and as evening approached he grew ugly. Over a trivial incident he quarreled with Melling and stabbed him before the latter could defend himself. Armed with the knife, Barn defied the other man and escaped. Melling was sent to the Receiving Hospital. His wound may prove serious.

EGYPT (Mass.) Oct. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Dreamworld," Thomas W. Lawson's magnificent estate, was the scene, today, of a picturesque harvest wedding, when his eldest daughter, Miss Gladys Lawson, was married to Eben Stanwood, a member of an old Boston family.

About 100 guests were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. John Suter of the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester, Mass. This evening, a barn dance was given to the employees on the estate and their friends by the bride. The decorations for the affairs were on a lavish scale. The bride was attended by her sisters, Marion and Dorothy, as bridesmaids, and little Miss Bunny Lawson as flower girl. E. B. Barstow was best man.

Mrs. and Mrs. Stanwood will pass their honeymoon in Europe, and return to live in a handsomely-furnished Beacon-street house, a wedding gift.

To Leave Off Coffee and Use Postum.

Postum Coffee shows its great nourishing power in many ways.

"I was nursing my baby six months ago," writes a young matron, "and I found that tea and coffee did not agree with me. I grew nervous and weak, my appetite was not good, and besides, baby was cross and fretful. He didn't seem to get proper nourishment from my milk, and friends said: 'You must wean him; he is starving!'

"I gave up tea and coffee and tried cocoa, chocolate and milk instead, but still baby didn't seem to thrive. At last, on the advice of a friend, I began to use Postum Coffee, and can truly say that the effect was wonderful! Both baby and I began to improve in appetite, spirits and flesh immediately. In three months my boy weighed 20 pounds and he is as good a baby as a mother could wish to have. My drinking Postum did it."

"I cannot recommend Postum Food Coffee too highly to nursing mothers. It is better in flavor than the other coffee and is far superior in nutritive qualities, supplying just what the child must have, as no other food can do." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason—explained in the quaint little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each package.

STOP TORTURE OF SUFFERERS.

Woman's Plea for "Great White Plague" Victims.

Parliament Closes, Mrs. Gibbs Again Its Head.

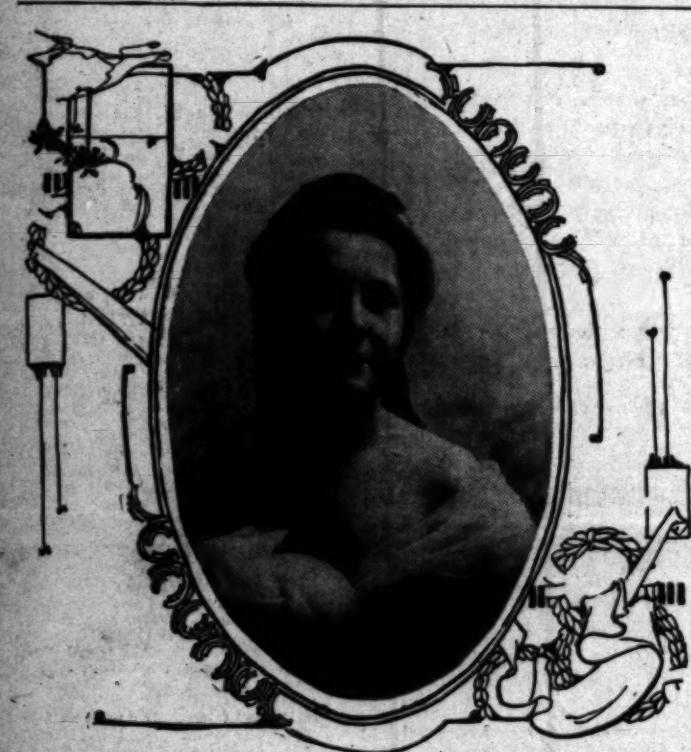

Agrette Sacrificed to Sympathy for Birds.

The fourteenth annual session of the Woman's Parliament closed yesterday and the same gracious and efficient woman who has guided this institution with a sure hand for the past two years was re-elected. Mrs. Gibbs was re-elected to accept the office of president and consented only with the proviso that she be allowed to resign at the end of another year. The term is two years.

The only change in the officers of the Parliament are those of secretary, treasurer, and business secretary, as the incumbents were not willing to serve longer. Mrs. F. W. Force was elected secretary; Mrs. H. A. Hamlin, treasurer, and Mrs. Will Thelms business secretary.

The sessions of yesterday, while they lacked the picturesque qualities of the subjects of the day before, testified to solid work the organization is doing to help and benefit the community. The greatest interest and discussion was evoked by the forcible address made by Mrs. Mary M. Coman of Pasadena, who talked of the threatening horror of the great white plague under the title: "One Problem of Southern California."

A VITAL PROBLEM. She termed it one of the most vital and terrible problems that ever menaced any State or portion of a

The pretty Parliament Page, little Miss Edith Gibbs, who is the daughter and right-hand bower of the president, Mrs. Jefferson D. Gibbs.

State, with its individual cases pitiful beyond description. "Shall Los Angeles continue to spend $1000 a year to send these poor victims, too ill to recover and too poor to maintain themselves, back to the homes from which they should never have been sent? What is the wise thing to do with this great threatener to the public health of our section?"

Mrs. Coman set forth in no unmeasured terms that eastern physicians should be removed from the sending victims of tuberculosis to southern California without regard to the circumstances under which they must live after they come here. "Climate conditions form only one consideration, and a small one at that, in the treatment of this plague," she continued, and thousands of poor lonely people come to California and die from tuberculosis, from poor food, lack of care, and from being away from their home surroundings.

"It is not only protection to the people who live here, but it is the greatest kindness to the sufferers themselves, to keep them at home," said Mrs. Coman, and she told of the Emergency League formed last winter in Pasadena, simply to help the people who are in extremity, who need food, medicine, care and financial help, and who need it quickly.

Circulars have been issued by this league, which the Parliament will help to distribute. They represent the evils of sending persons afflicted with such disease to Southern California to die, probably in need, and even if wealthy and able to pay their way, at least to fade away among strangers, when, if proper out-door treatment had been put into practice at home, they might have stood better chances for life and health.

There was much discussion of Mrs. Coman's talk and an unqualified endorsement of her kind and scientific position.

KEEP SCHOOLS FROM POLITICS. The afternoon session was devoted to the question: "Should Educational Institutions be Under Political Control?" This had been assigned to Mrs. Roy Jones of Los Angeles, but as she was unable to come, Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum made the address.

She referred in beginning to the general exposure of graft, and political intrigue in nearly every department of government. Schools, she said, had in the majority of instances, escaped and it was to schools that she pointed the discussion, women being more vitally interested in that phase of political control.

She cited the fact that in St. Louis, in spite of all the corruption exposed, schools had been kept free from politics because representatives on the school board were elected at large and there was in no sense ward representation. Another corrupt city government that had kept schools free from the contamination was Philadelphia, which, as Mrs. Barnum recited, as a matter of policy, sought the advice of experts and took it. Chicago had taken a great advance, she thought, through the appointment of Miss Jane Addams of Hull House as chairman of the Management Committee of the school board.

"Unfortunately things arise in schools because of the democratic idea that the victor belong the spoils," said the speaker, "and the remedy lies in expert service resting upon a merit system instead of rotation and uncertain tenure of office." She also said that there should be a basis of expert judgment when causes of criticism arose.

Scotty, "he must endure the same hardships which anyone making this trip is compelled to undergo. My men were well aware of the presence along the trail of Girard's men on our last trip in from the mine. We have glasses which easily sight fifty miles, and guns which shoot without difficulty at least five miles. These stories about my trip for the blood of mankind are silly. I never killed a man in my life, and don't believe I have the heart to take the life of a chicken, but when it comes to a show-down I'll be there."

Today Scott expects to close the negotiations for his record-breaking special to New York. He will visit the offices of the Santa Fe and secure a final decision as to the cost, and the desire of this road to furnish him with another transcontinental train. E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, now sojourning in the Orient, has been informed by cable of Scott's challenge, as announced in yesterday's Times, and Scott expects to hear from him today.

"I have the money," and here Scott produced his ponderous roll, "to purchase this train, and I am just wise enough to know that it must be on the level, that is, no collusion between the railway management. If it is to be a race, why that just suits me."

HIGH ALTITUDE CRAZES HIM. OMAHA, Oct. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Alfred Del Carlo, a well-dressed Italian of Lucera, was taken from the Union Pacific overland limited Tuesday night and lodged in the City Jail, suffering from dementia, due to high altitude. During aberration he tore his ticket from San Francisco to New York, threw away his money and loose baggage. When finally under control, he had nothing left but a steamship ticket from New York to Italy.

CONTEST TITLE TO MADE LAND.

SAN DIEGO HARBOR BOARD AFTER VALUABLE RIGHTS.

Disputes Claims of Santa Fe Railroad and Others to Property Worth More Than Half a Million on Water Front, Alleging That State Had No Legal Authority to Sell.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN DIEGO, Oct. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Property, the value of which is estimated at a half million dollars, some of which has been sold to the harbor board, has been the subject of a dispute which is the highest court of the land will have to consider before it is settled. The right of way claimed by the Santa Fe, the warehouse of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, and numerous warehouses and business blocks are located on the strip of land in dispute, which the Harbor Commissioners claim as the property of the State.

The land is all made land, and for that reason the commissioners claim it to be the property of the State, and assert that the State had no right to sell it. The proposition to build a new railroad along the water front on part of the Santa Fe right of way started the controversy. Victor E. Shaw, attorney for the Board of Harbor Commissioners, said today: "One suit has already been instituted by the board against persons claiming to own water front land and I have been instructed to begin another. The Santa Fe claims a right of way 100 feet wide across this land because the city granted them the right. I claim the grant amounts to nothing because the city never owned the land. The constitution of the State gives it sovereignty over these lands, but no proprietary interest in them, so it would be impossible for the State to make a grant of the land to any of the parties now claiming to own it. The question is a grave one and should be settled immediately."

CONSTABLE'S HOT FIGHT. Battered and bruised from a terrific fight with twenty Mexicans, M. H. McAlmond, deputy constable at Calexico, arrived in town tonight to place himself in the County Jail. The big Calexico officer scattered the bunch in short order when they mixed Sunday night, but three of the Mexicans sprang upon him, armed with a beer bottle and clubs. He knocked out the man with the beer bottle, but the others got away.

The Gold Medal has been awarded at Portland Exhibition to "Old Mission" brand California Olives and Olive Oil.

BOHEMIANS WANT SUFFRAGE. PRAGUE (Bohemia), Oct. 11.—The Czechs and Germans united yesterday in a demonstration in favor of universal suffrage. Peaceful crowds estimated to number from 40,000 to 60,000 persons assembled in the neighborhood of the Diet building and sent a deputation to the Land Marshal, Prince von Lobkowitz, and the Governor, Count von Gudenstern, to present the official with their views on the suffrage question. This movement is expected to spread until all Austria demands manhood suffrage.

Come Up Where You Belong.

Perhaps you know why you fail in the plans for money, fame and position. Some don't. Just why the brain does not produce practical money making results is a puzzle to many men. Strong, healthy natural brains cannot be made from the food most men eat, and good brains can't work sharp when sluggish to weakness by coffee. Unsuccessful brains come from improperly selected food and from coffee drinking. Coffee affects the stomach and nerves, thence the brain and prevents proper digestion of even good food. A distinct improvement in mental power will follow in a week or ten days after coffee is left off and Postum taken on. The results are multiplied when the brain building food, Grape-Nuts is used twice a day. There are well established and very clearly understood reasons for these sure results from the change in food and drink. You can make Money, Position, Fame if you have the kind of Brain that works that way. Postum well boiled produces a delicious beverage, satisfying and nourishing. Quit drugging and poor food and Come Up Where You Belong.

Dean says

When we were invoicing we discovered several small lots of goods that should have been disposed of, but were overlooked. We have gathered together some of those and are showing them in our north window—next to Jern's. Every item in the window is a bargain at the price.

For instance: Ladies' leather hand bags, worth up to $3.00, are priced at $1.00. Not every bag was worth $3.00. Some were worth $2.50 or $2.00. None were marked less than $1.75, but now all are priced at $1.00. And, furthermore, they are all the style bags that are being carried this fall.

We have a very good hair brush that was thought to be a bargain at $1.00. We will close out the line at 75c. You will not be disappointed in these.

Cream Dentifrice, usually sold at 25c, we have marked to go at 15c. House Thermometers, 25c. Stair's Tooth Powder, was 25c, now 15c.

Guaranteed Tooth Brushes, 25c. Bathing Caps, worth up to $1.25, are all priced at 50c. Even if you cannot use one for a shower bath at home, it will pay you to buy one and keep it over till next beach season.

See Dean about it. He is now at 514 South Spring Street. For many years a Son. Main St.

MAKING TEST OF KAUFMANN.

Delany Fits Him Against "Philadelphia Jack."

O'Brien Asks Clean Breaks, but Accepts Rules.

Physical Culture Show Records—Football Reform.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Billy Delany signed today for a match between Al Kaufmann and "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, on October 27, before the San Francisco Athletic Club.

There was not much haggling over the articles when O'Brien and Delany met. Jack asked for clean breaks, but Billy declared that San Francisco has no right to patronize a man of this kind. Billy argued that the only way to fight was straight rules, and he carried his point.

The referee will be picked a week before the fight, and it is understood that Jack Walsh will be the man.
The fight will settle the question whether Kaufmann has had luck on the side in previous battles, or whether he is a really a legitimate candidate for a heavyweight honors. Kaufmann has closed up a bunch of amateurs who have little or nothing of the game, and his first and only professional engagement was with Harry Delany, who was never a high-class fighter. But this month, Al will meet one of unquestionable ability, and if he wins the long end of the purse, he will have his stock sky high.

What people saw at the ball game yesterday.

"GAVY'S" HITS BEAT TIGERS.

Celery Digger There With the Big Round Stick.

Flood Astonishes Fans by His Airship Catch.

Pitchers of Both Teams Had to Call for Help.

Los Angeles 6, Tacoma 5.

It was to the fence with the simple life yesterday at the ball grounds and naturopaths would have had just as much of a show there as they would off of Hill street. Glad cockles and wild hurrahs were the principal things on the bill of fare, and the performance as a whole had the Grand Opera-house and its wonderful thrills bunched to a tombless whisper, whatever that is outside of spring poetry.

Red-in-the-Face stamped himself out the reservation in the very first inning and never did get back, for the struggle was a never-ending act of excitement. As an emotional drama it was the best the local fans have seen here for months.

It was really so daring for the game to come out as it did, and it was just too dear for the Tigers to be skinned.
We need these games right now, but the way we had to work to get this one was enough to keep the 1500 spectators busy from the time they slipped through the gates.

It was a pretty and exciting game
to watch, for there were hard swings, just enough errors to add a spice to the play, and some very pretty fielding. Flood created the big excitement of the day with a great one-handed jumping catch that stopped at least two runs, and Dillman took a hot line in the first of the ninth for a double play unassisted that doubtless prevented another. Cravath won the game for the sixth with a homer over the left fence that sent in Brashear ahead of him, and Doyle scored three men with a very timely double over third base in the first of the sixth.

Each team had to send a runner to the barn and Los Angeles won because we got in the best one of the reserves in Baum, and while he was touched up for four events in three innings, his fine work saved the day.

Dolly Gray was sent out after the first of the sixth, and when Baum went in the sixth, Nordyke and Flood laughed and Lynch, filled the bases with a pass to Casey, and then fanned out Graham. After this there was nothing stirring for the Tigers in the next two innings.

Keefe went into pitch for the Tigers,
but with two out in the first he passed Smith; Brashear singled; Doyle made an error; Dillman got his base on balls;
Keefe made a wild pitch, and on top of all this, Cravath sent a hot one to center, scoring Brashear and Dillman,
Smith coming in on the wild pitch.
These three runs came easily, but all of them were needed, as later events proved.

In the third inning Flood made what some people might call a home run.
The hit to right field, and Doyle let the ball pass to the fence and Flood kept on running. Doyle finally threw the ball to second base and Casey shot it to third to head off Flood, but the throw was bad and the ball went past Sheehan to the bleachers. Flood did not stop running and scored on a continuous run around the bases. Brashear opened the sixth with a hit to right, and Dillman sacrificed him to second.
Then Cravath came up and batted the first pitched ball over the left fence for a homer, scoring Brashear ahead of him.

Dillon put in Dolly Gray to pitch for us, but Brashear didn't give Dolly the right kind of support, and then after Smith was wrong, Dolly flew into the air himself in the sixth and let three Tigers get in. Sheehan's single, two errors by Dillman and Doyle's pass made the first run, and a fielder's choice, an error and two singles made the second. Then in the sixth with two out, Casey singled, Graham and Fitzgerald drew passes and Doyle scored the bunch with a two-horse swipe over third base.

U. S. C. - POMONA TO MAKE UP.

Warring Colleges Will Kiss and be Friends.

May be Playing Football in Another Month.

Occidental Has Strong Rules for Athletes.

Pomona and U.S.C., bitter college enemies for the past three or four years, will be playing football against each other within the next two months.
This seems just as impossible as the user of a telephone and the company ever kissing and making up but the making up of U.S.C. and Pomona has not only been possible all the time but
is very probable before Thanksgiving.
About the only reason for this make-up is that the boys of both institutions have about forgotten the petty,
childish squabbles that separated them
from the beginning of the drawing up
of a telephone and the company ever kissing and making up but the making up of U.S.C. and Pomona has not only been possible all the time but is very probable before Thanksgiving.

Nothing doing.

U. S. C. - POMONA TO MAKE UP.

Warring Colleges Will Kiss and be Friends.

May be Playing Football in Another Month.

Occidental Has Strong Rules for Athletes.

Pomona and U.S.C., bitter college
enemies for the past three or four years, will be playing football against
each other within the next two months.
This seems just as impossible as the
user of a telephone and the company
ever kissing and making up but the
making up of U.S.C. and Pomona has
not only been possible all the time but
is very probable before Thanksgiving.
About the only reason for this make-
up is that the boys of both institutions have about forgotten the petty,
childish squabbles that separated them
from the beginning of the drawing up
of a telephone and the company ever
kissing and making up but the making
up of U.S.C. and Pomona has not only
been possible all the time but is very probable before Thanksgiving.

OX-CART TRAILERS ON SHINING STEEL.

Utah Pioneers, Guests of Senator Clark, Come in Hours Instead of Days, to Find Wonderland—Trip of Thirty Visitors.

WHIRLED over lines of glistering steel across the painted desert where the hoots of their plodding oxen and heavy cart wheels broke the untrammelled wastes more than fifty years ago, a picturesque little veteran band from the Mormon capital came into Los Angeles last night over the Salt Lake, the special guests of President Clark during their prospective stay of several days here. Thirty men and women, comprising nearly all the survivors of the little band of adventurous pioneers who followed the lead of Brigham Young into almost barren Southern California over half a century ago, these venerable men and women found themselves yesterday and last night looking upon a land of enchantment.

For the first time in half a century way of the Cajon Pass, which the bull teams discovered for the railroads years ago, in the full moonlight of early yesterday morning, every man and woman in the party was wide awake watching through the windows of their car the changing landscape, familiar even in the half shadows of the night.

"Why, it all seemed so real to me," exclaimed W. W. Cliff, "that I forgot the present, forgot our luxurious train and modern mode of travel, forgot the long intervening years, and in reality lived over again in vivid recollection the last slow crossing of the desert. Had anyone asked me this morning how old I am, I would have answered without hesitation, 'Twenty-one.'"

And thus vividly has the trip impressed itself upon the minds of all. Mrs. Cliff, who spent three months in the crossing fifty-one years ago, pointed out at several places by the way the members of this little party crossed the desert and the mountains again into California by the old trail which they knew so well, but in a manner so different, and to a country so unlike the one they first looked upon.

They recollected full well the California they found and left, almost a continuation of the arid wastes. They have returned after many years to find that California as much a thing of the past as are their ox carts beside the swift palatial trains which superseded them. Therein lay the wonder and the chief pleasure of the trip.

Leaving Salt Lake City Monday night in an elegant special Pullman coach, they arrived in San Bernardino, where they founded in the early days, yesterday morning, and after a day of entertainment there, arrived in Los Angeles last night in almost the same number of hours that the journey formerly required days in the making. To them, with the recollection of the hardships, the sufferings and privations of those early journeys still alive in their memories, it is a thing little short of magic.

So vividly impressed upon them are the scenes of the first trail-breaking days that they still know today every foot and crook of that once long and weary way. The rocks and the mountains, the parched arroyos and the dwindling creeks and brackish water holes, the narrow passes and defiles they still remember by name, and the hours of the journey both day and night, were spent by the travelers, singly or in animated groups, pointing out spots over nearly every yard of the way made historic by some event more or less thrilling or fraught with deep human interest and often dire tragedy.

There were scenes which William Robbins pointed where they had run short of water, where their cattle died and where all hands were saved from starvation by the timely arrival of another party.

Along the winding way of the Big Muddy they traced their way through the plains, living the tollsome days all over again in reminiscence as the train fitted swiftly westward.

LIVING IT OVER AGAIN.

Going down through the winding side spots where they pitched camp for a week at a time while the men scoured the surrounding hills for fresh meat, or checked the advance and closely guarded the camp while watching the movements of marauding bands of Indians.

But however well the venerable visitors may recall the unchanging landmarks of the immutable harshness of the desert, there was little left them between the mouth of the Cajon Pass and the Pacific upon which to hang a vestige of recognition.

And if, with its orange groves and miles of fruit bearing lands in the valleys, San Bernardino and Riverside baffled identification, how bewildering must have appeared the first glance early last evening of the little Spanish mission town of "Our Lady of the Angels."

NO REMINDER OF THE PAST.

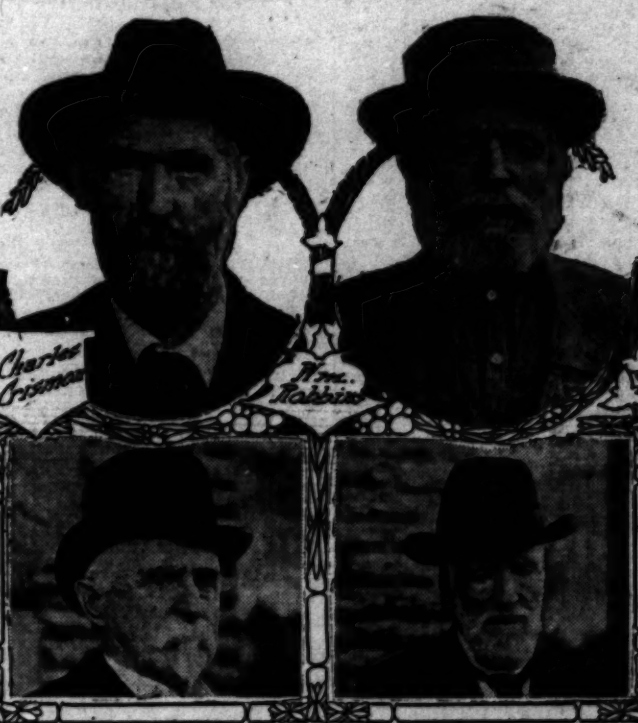

Bishop W. W. Cliff, leaning far out the car window, saw nothing to remind him of the Mexican mission in the myriad electric arcs puncturing the gloom of a busy transcontinental railroad yard. Straining his eyes to the utmost he utterly failed to identify the spot on the east bank of the river where he unspanned his oxen one evening just fifty-one years ago, while the bells of the little church at the head of the Plaza across the narrow stream chimed the Angelus hour.

Milton Musser, historian of the Mormon Church, looked in vain for the bare, lone hill in the center of the village, surrounded by a grilla, where he describes in his journal that, "a convict every week meets his doom on the gallows for murdering or poisoning."

Yesterday, as he gazed for the first time in his life upon cultivated orange groves, and breathed the flower-purified air, A. P. Hardy, who lived more than two years with the Pious Indians to teach them the domestic arts, said: "I had a through ticket to Paradise, my berth reserved and meals paid for. I think I would say that I was almost there."

Today the old settlers will be taken on special trips to the beaches and

BRIDE-TO-BE FOR PASTOR.

Popular Dr. Ferguson and Mrs. Lackey Engaged.

Announcement of Interest to Their Many Friends.

Wedding Expected to Take Place Next Summer.

An engagement that will awaken more than usual interest and cause surprise is that of Dr. Wilbert F. Ferguson, pastor of the Redlands Methodist Church, and Mrs. Maude V. Lackey of No. 1701 Pleasant avenue, city.

Dr. Ferguson is one of the most prominent men in the Southern California Methodist Conference and has won a place of distinction by his excellent record as a pastor.

He is known in Los Angeles as a very successful pastor of the Boyle Heights Methodist Church, having preceded Rev. William Sterling, who took the Boyle Heights charge a year ago. During the labors of Dr. Ferguson, the Boyle Heights church membership was greatly increased.

The close of the year was marked with a sad affliction for Dr. Ferguson. His faithful wife, loved and revered by all, passed away. The blow was severe, coming just at the time of the annual conference.

At the conference in 1904 Dr. Ferguson was appointed to the Methodist Church at Redlands, where his services are in such demand that this year he was returned at a higher salary.

Dr. Ferguson is the son of a Canadian Methodist minister and a graduate of Victoria University, Toronto. His post-graduate course was taken at Syracuse University, and his divinity course at Drew Theological Seminary. The old Wesleyan University of Middletown, Ct., conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

For three years Dr. Ferguson occupied the chair of Latin in the Iowa Wesleyan University, and was later elected to the presidency of the Centenary Collegiate Institute of Hackettstown, N. J. He served in that capacity five years, and then accepted the pastorate of St. Luke's Church, Newark, N. J. From Newark he was transferred to the California Conference and by Bishop Joyce appointed to the First Methodist Church at San Diego. Because of the failing health of his wife Dr. Ferguson was appointed to Boyle Heights, the change being removed from the coast.

While pastor of the First Methodist Church in San Diego Dr. Ferguson was offered the presidency of the University of Southern California, but was obliged to decline the honor because of his many other duties.

Mrs. Maude V. Lackey met the man who is soon to be her husband while he was pastor of the Boyle Heights church. Mrs. Lackey is a devoted church worker, and prominent in Epworth League circles.

The fiancée of Dr. Ferguson is the divorced wife of Clinton B. Lackey, an employe of a medical company of this city. Her many friends will be happy to learn of her engagement to Dr. Ferguson. Mrs. Lackey is the eldest daughter of Dr. Francis E. Corbin of No. 1201 Pleasant avenue.

While no date has been set for the wedding, it is understood that some time during the summer of next year Mrs. Lackey will become the bride of Dr. Ferguson.

EARLY PIONEER DIES SUDDENLY.

MRS. E. GREENBAUM, HERE FIFTY-TWO YEARS, DEAD.

Came With Husband from New York by Way of Isthmus Shortly After Gold Rush to See Struggling Pueblo of Two Hundred and Fifty Souls Expand into Big City.

Forty-two years a resident of Los Angeles—among the very earliest of the pioneers. Mrs. E. Greenbaum, one of the best-known Jewish residents of Los Angeles, died suddenly of congestion of the lungs, yesterday at her home, No. 816 West Eighteenth street.

Mrs. Greenbaum, who was seventy-three years old, contracted a cold several weeks ago at her summer home at Santa Monica, but the affection was considered of but little consequence until yesterday morning, when her condition became serious. Even as a devoted daughter was ministering to her wants, the spark of life departed. The funeral services will be held at the family residence this morning.

With her husband, Mrs. Greenbaum came from New York City to Los Angeles in 1903, making the journey by way of the Isthmus of Panama. Mr. Greenbaum previously had established himself in business in Los Angeles, then a struggling little pueblo with a population of about 250, most of whom lived in small adobe huts.

The Greenbaums first lived in a "doba" house on what now is North Main street, but later, when the head of the family began to prosper in business, they built a home where the Grand Opera-house now stands, on Main near First street. This home, which had become a landmark, gave way to the march of progress years ago, and the family built another home farther south on Main street, which, too, was displaced in time by the encroachments of commerce.

Mrs. Greenbaum's late home was known as one of the most hospitable in Los Angeles, and its mistress was beloved for her many kindly deeds and acts of charity.

Despite her age, Mrs. Greenbaum's mind was extremely active, and she was keenly interested in religious and other current affairs. Three years ago, her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Three daughters and one son survive her. Mrs. I. Norton, Mrs. S. S. Spter and Mrs. Jack Lippman, and Abe Greenbaum of the London Clothing Company.

application for admission to the home had to be turned away because there were no accommodations for them, and the management is making an appeal for $1000 to build another cottage that they may be taken in.

Commencing Monday morning, there will be mass at 8 o'clock, followed by preaching, and evening services each night at 7:30 o'clock.
